SYNOPSIS	I was contacted by Dusty Stone Requesting a report on Cattle Guards
	Mr. Stone has had issues with the county road department for many years. The main issue is that the cattle guards are too narrow for Mr. Stone to bring his farm implements across them. The county has placed a gate on one side of the cattle guard, the problem is that when that gate is in place next to the cattle guard, there is a huge opening in the fence line. Because of this situation, the county has QR 69 as well as QR 70 (QR refers to Quay Road) declared as open range. While I was investigating the situation, I never observed signs stating open range or signs cautioning drivers of upcoming cattle guards.

After measuring each cattle guard that borders Mr. Stones property, it is clear that there is no uniform set of measurements. Throughout the ht investigation I observed that the cattle guards are of different sizes and made of different materials.

If the county roads are going to be classified as open range then they must have signs that are large yellow signs with a cow in the center of them this is a sign that is known as the open range sign. Also there has to be signs that are 200 feet from either side of the cattle guard stating that there is a cattle guard.

I believe that the county road department should widen the cattle guards if it is to be open range, by having wider cattle guards, Mr. Stone would be able to access his farm land with his implements.
